Today Media comunications stay us informed. However it can be bad for some people. Now there are more than 1000 channels abalible to watch news. In my opinion, TV, newspaper, and magazines pay too much attention to the personal lives of famous people.

Privacy is something very important for people. First, if they prevate you of your privacy, they private your family's privacy too. To support that, An actor of Australia doesn't go out with his children for that reasson. Second, everybody has secrets. For example, Evo had his secret about Gabriela Zapata. Third, the plans are an important part of our lifes and it can be destroyed by an scandal. For instance, the president of Egypt that was destituyed for being cheating his wife. That's why the privacy is important.

The emotional issues are an important factor too. Firstly, is knowed that people kill themselfs when their private life is expossed. For example, the girl in Santa Cruz how was found dead in her room after the video was show up. Secondly, most of people go to the drugs to feel that they scape from their life. For instance, Federik Russel the famous actor smoked weed to lose himself. Thirdly, some persons kill to the person who show up their life. To support that, ten of the famous who their private life was show up have killed to the paparazzi who recorded them, so far. Sometimes emotional issues are dangerous.

A lot of people live of that. First, there are people who record famous people for fun. For instance, the boys that were recording out of the house of German Garmendia the last month. Second, there are people who do that for money. For example, the paparazis. Third, some people do it for love to the journalism. To support that we have to Pablo Calucho in Santa Cruz, who is a good journalist. As you can see there are many reasons to record famous people.

The media comunications are very focused in the life of famous people. Do you think the same?.
